THE BOGUS STORY

Once upon a time in the late 1860's, a local farmer took to counterfeiting money. The local sheriff was onto his scheme and when the farmer learned he was to be arrested he tossed his tools, coins and plates into the creek - thus the name Bogus Creek.

Dating back to 1912, the Bogus Creek site was occupied by a blacksmith and wagon shop. Smithing was an important part of the first ninety years of Stockholm's economy and the original settlers brought iron working skills with them from Karlskoga, Sweden. Many artifacts were found while digging the ponds here at Bogus Creek. You may view these items on display on the Bogus Bay deck.
